Since its inception decades ago there has been a tremendous growth in the field of Cochlear Implants and Implantable Hearing Devices. Cochlear Implants have improved technologically, miniaturization of implanted components has made surgery easier & faster while miniaturization of external components has increased cosmetic acceptance of implants. More & more aspiring professionals are keen to start their own Cochlear Implant Programme. It is important that each professional understands the need for a team approach; the constitution of such a team, the adequate training required for the members of the team, all of which will ensure the success of the programme. An ideal team consists of surgeons, audiologists, educators for the hearing impaired as the core group, with support from counselors, paediatricians, neurologists & psychologists amongst others.

Our workshop aims to provide basic information & training to the different professionals and also answer several queries which may be in their minds. We sincerely hope this workshop will be of help to those who want to start working with Cochlear Implant and other Implantable Hearing Devices.
